Some people claim that our children here are put out because children outside of Richmond are taught in the public schools of this city. This is true; and I can point to numerous cases where children who have once paid tuition, as many of them do, are kept in attendance. Once in, in many cases, no questions are asked afterwards, and the student is a factor. Prune the schools and spare your historic places. A STATE INSTITUTION.

No class of men in the world can get closer to you than the doctors.

They do great good. They are thinkers, and they harvest in a ripe field.
Several years ago there was an attempt made to get the Legislature to pass an act founding a State hospital. Political upheavals killed the scheme.

Why can it not be done now?
A gentleman, whose name in the profession of medicine is known throughout the State, was talking about this subject yes terday, and his views will bear public ventilation, and at the risk of his displeasure they are given below.

"I consider it one of the most important matters that could be brought to the attention of the public. Think of it. The mechanic, the farmer, the laborer, the masses of the people, are deeply interested. Suppose one of their daughters need medical treatment. The country doctor has a wide cirenit. He cannot be at every place when needled; and if there is immediate need for morphine, for instance, it may be aday before it can be had, and so on with hundreds of cases that I could cite. A State institution would meet these requirements. We care for the blind and the insane; why not the suffering, who may be cured? Medical attention would be given free, with the exception of the board of resident physicians, and the Legislature could name the board of directors, and have the entire control of the hospital. Fifteen thousand dollars could be used as to provide for those who are unable to pay for attention, and leave those who prefer to do so, to settle their bills. Richmond needs such a place, and the State needs it, and I tell you one thing, the man who offers such a beneficent bill in the next Legislature will make a lasting monument in the hearts of future generations."

DASTARDLY OUTRAGE. A Stone Thrown in an Electric Car Win-

Yesterday afternoon, about 6 o'clock, as an electric car was crossing Taylor's-Hill, in the eastern part of the city, a stone was thrown in the window by some unknown person. The glass in the window was broken, and the stone struck a lady in the car without injuring her. The car was crowded with passengers, and the broken panes of glass was scattered all over them.

he will frown and write you down at once as an ass.

The old sexton who used to look after St. John's Church was named Andrea Graffigna. His son, the present efficient super-Intendent of the burying-ground, is the first man who was ever paid by the city to look after the sacred precunets. He is also the discoverer of a new method of artificial heating. He has a pit in the ground, and here he keeps his potted plants and bulbs perfectly safe by banking against the brick walls great quantities of the dead leaves driven by autumnal gales from their airy perches on the trees in the inclosure.

The oldest tombstone in the burying-ground is that of Robert Rose, rector of Albemarle parish, and who was buried in 1751.

There is another tombstone which bears this inscription: "In memory of Abraham Shield, stone-cutter and brick-layer, a native of County Durham, Old England, who departed this life October 9th, 1796; aged 28 years." Another tombstone has this:

Whilst in thrist Jesus here I sleep,
Prepare yourself your soul to save.
There is no repentance in the grave."

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST RICH-

MOND. The Subject Discussed by Representatives of Council, the Chamber of Commerce

The complaint has frequently been made that the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad Company are in the habit of discriminating against Richmond in the matter of freight rates on lumber between this city and Manchester—our merchants complaining that the company charges them two cents per 100 more than is charged the merchants of contractions of the company charges them two cents per two contractions of the company charges them two cents per two contractions of the company charges them the company charges them the company charges them the company charges the contraction of the company charges the company charges the company contraction of the company charges the company contraction of the com

Yesterday evening a sub-committee of the Board of Public Interests of the City Council, a sub-committee of the committee on inland trade of the Chamber of Commerce, and a committee of lumber merchants met in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to confer together on this sub-ject. There were present: Of the Board of Public Interests of Council, Messrs, T. P. Campbell, G. W. Taylor and T. H. Ellett; of the committee on inland trade of Chamber of Commerce, Messrs, L. C. Younger, S. W. Travers and O. L. Cottrell; of the lumber merchants, Messrs. Isaac Mercer, H. B. Taliaferro and Messrs. Lyon & Montague.

H. B. Taliaferro and Messrs. Lyon & Montague.

Major F. R. Scott represented the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad, in company with Mr. Sol Haas, agent of the Associated Railways, whica manages the freight rates of the Petersburg road.

Full statements were made by the lumber merchants, in accordance with the facts detailed above. The side of the railroad was also presented, they taking the ground that when they bring car loads of lumber here they are frequently compelled to hold them for the merchants, and that their facilities for storing the lumber here are not so extensive as in Manchester, and that to do so is detrimental to their other freight.

THE SUBJECT TO BE FURTHER DISCUSSED.

After these respective statements the conference adjourned to meet Monday at 12 o'clock at Mr. Haas' office, where the subject will be further considered, and the depot of the company in Manchester will be visited to see the capacity of that building.

From all that occurred it seems quite probable that a satisfactory solution of the difficulty will be arrived at.

To Connect Pittaburg With the South.

WHERLING, W. VA., November 27.—A few days since it was announced that a corporation had formed to complete an air line from Pittaburg to the South, through the oil and coal regions of West Virginia, and via Charleston, crossing the Battimore and Ohio Railroad at Fairmont, and the Chesapeake and Ohio at Charleston. There was considerable mystery about the project, and the names of the incorporators were not known. It is now given out that the gentlemen who are backing the big scheme are Messrs. M. S. Quay, of Beaver; W. J. M. Cowden, of Wheeling; William Reed, Richard Dettrich, William E. Walters, James W. Miller and B. W. Vanderbilt, for the Standard Oil Company; B. C. Christy, Hugh Fergnson, T. Work will be commenced in the spring on the new road, and in addition to an outlet to the West from Pittaburg via Cincinnati.
The road will be known as the Buckhannon and Holly River road.

Wrecked Off Long Branch-Ten of Her

A GERMAN BARK

Wrecked Off Long Branch—Len of Her Crew Drowned.

New York, November 27.—The German bark Germania, from Stetton for New York, was wrecked off West End Long Branch tonight, and Len out of her crew of fourteen were drowned, the other four reaching shore with the aid of the life-saving crew from Green Pond station. The lost are: Captain Winthorst, William Baltz, Ernest Botter, Arthur Brauer, Gustav Boddenhainer, John Schumacher, Franz Viarossin, Richard Wittenberg, sailors, and the cook, name unknown. The vessel struck on the sands about 6 o'clock in a heavy gale and sea shots were heard for half an hour, and then suddenly ceased. Before the life-saving crew could reach the vessel two men were seen swimming ashere, but had been nearly exhausted. They were saved by Charlie Denning, of Long Branch, who swam out and dragged them ashore. They were First Mate Doyan and Salimaker Bergach. The other two saved were boys, who were clinging to barrnels in the surf when the life-savers reached them. Mate Doyan says the captain was in charge when the vessel struck. Doyan was below, when he heard the cry of breakers, and the order to luff. Refore he could reach the deck the shock came, and one the masts was carried away. The moment he reched the deck a big wave swept him overboard. One of the rescued boys, named Gustor, says he was on deck when the vessel struck. He says the captain and some of the men were drunk when the vessel struck. The captain drew a revolver and said he would shoot the man at the wheel, but just then a big wave swept them off. The vessel was an old one. Her cargo was rags, sement and empty barrels.

A NOTED CRIMINAL

Pardoned by Governor Feraker.

Pardoned by Governor Feraker.

Columbus, O., November 27.—Governor Foraker to-night granted a pardon to Wm. Carroll, who was serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary. Carroll was convicted twenty-two years ago of the murder of Adam Bose, watchman of the Brown county court-house. The crime was committed in an attempt to rob the treasury vault of that county. The history of Carroll is one of the most dramatic and intensely interesting chapters in the criminal annals of this country.

He escaped the detectives after arrest, went West, married a daughter of Major Armstrong, of the United States Army, and became a resident of Illinois. In that State he was captured after he had served in the war of the rebellion. Since his incarceration in the Ohio penitentiary he murdered a fellow prisoner in a burst of passion There has always been much doubt as to the identity of the noted prisoner, as he was convicted entirely on circumstantial evidence, and this, together with his usual good behavior in prison, caused his pardon. The Governor also pardoned Anthony Boccioco, an ex-policeman, of Cincinnati, who was serving a life sentence for shooting to death a saloonist named Adam Dollar.
